

Introductionweek MSc Systems & Control

From Monday September 5th till Friday September 9th a special Introductionweek is organised for all new students of the MSc Systems & Control.

During this days there are special research presentations and various meetings with mentors, staff members and Out of Control members.

From Monday till Wednesday-morning the program takes place at the TU in Delft and from Wednesday-afternoon till Friday there is a special outdoor program in Oosterhout with two overnight stays (for free and including transfer and all meals and drinks).

All new MSc students are strongly advised to participate this days.
